

Rebar shape codes

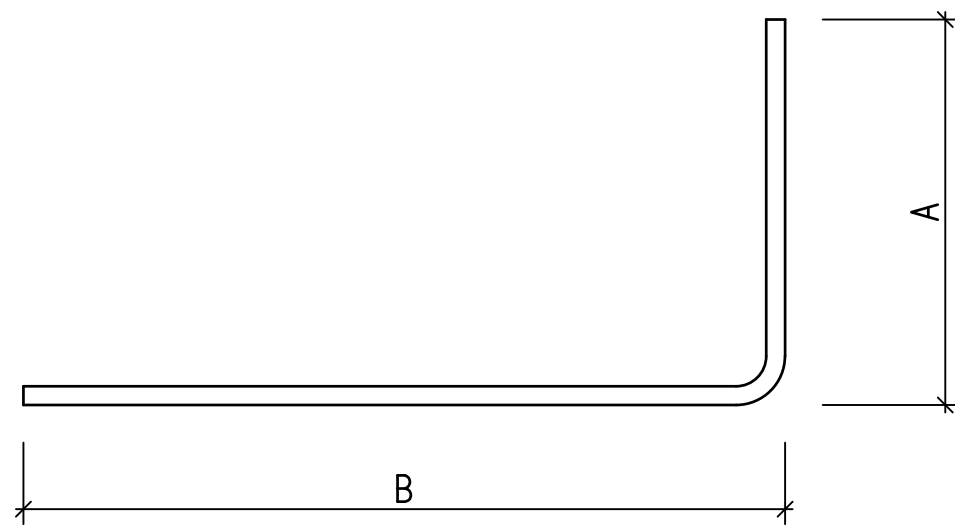

The rebar shape codes are divided into three categories. The three categories have different naming convention.

- 1. Standard shape codes
These shapes are standard shapes given in NS-EN 3766. They are named with only two numbers, and according to the naming convention in NS-EN 3766.
- 2. Shape codes from Betongpublikasjon nr. 8
These shapes are listed in Betongpublikasjon nr. 8, and named accordingly (NB99- and a sequence number)
- 3. Shape codes created in COWI
These shapes are made in COWI and are named as CW99-NNN, where NNN is following the naming convention in NS-EN 3766 with the following exceptions:
  - The first number always indicates the number of bends in the shape.
  - The third number is a sequence number, and is only present if there exist several bars that meets the same requirement for the first two numbers.
